Time is Ticking! Submission Dates for Global Fund Funding Requests

Greetings from the Regional Platform for Communication and Coordination for Anglophone Africa, hosted by EANNASO.

TIME IS TICKING! It's time to submit Global Fund funding requests for the 2017-2019 funding cycle.

The Global Fund has recently released a list of the type and timing of funding requests that countries are preparing to submit. EANNASO has prepared a list of Anglophone African countries for quick information (Table). For further information on the different application types, check out the Global Fund's training slides on the differentiated application process.

Most Anglophone African countries are preparing their applications for the Window 1 (20 March 2017) or Window 2 (23 May 2017) deadlines. This means that now is a critical time for civil society and community groups to engage.

Here are some tools to help you engage in the process:

- The Global Fund's applicant handbook, with information on what to do before submitting a funding request
- The EANNASO and AAI video toolkit, “how to influence decision-making processes about health”
- The AAI good practice guide on the Civil Society Priorities Charters for country dialogue
- The Global Fund's “How We Engage” document, with case studies of effective civil society and community engagement

Don't hesitate to reach out to the Regional Platform if you have any questions about how you can engage, or how you access technical assistance to make your engagement more effective.

Warm regards from EANNASO and the Regional Platform team.
