Global Fund Catalytic Investments: Matching Funds Available to Anglophone African Countries

Greetings from the Regional Platform for Communication and Coordination for Anglophone Africa, hosted by EANNASO.

A number of countries have been chosen by the Global Fund to access additional funds on top of their country allocations. These are predetermined amounts, called "matching funds". This funding is designed to incentivize countries to dedicate portions of their allocations to innovative and ambitious evidence-driven programming, to maximize impact in specific strategic priority areas.

Note: Matching funds are awarded at the same time as the country grants and are implemented by the same recipients that the country chooses for those grants.

EANNASO has prepared a list of matching funds available to Anglophone African countries for quick information (Table). For further information on matching funds, check out the Global Fund's training slides on catalytic investments or visit the catalytic investments page on the Global Fund's website.

To access these matching funds, countries must show:

- An increase in the allocation amount designated to relevant catalytic investment priority areas, compared to the 2014-2016 allocation period.
- An increase in programmatic targets and coverage as a result of the increased use of country allocations and use of matching funds (must be included in the performance framework).

Flexibilities in the implementation of matching funds are possible. Application of flexibilities will be reviewed by the Technical Review Panel and Grant Approvals Committee on a case-by-case basis.

Warm regards from EANNASO and the Regional Platform team.
